

A Bento Box (弁当, bentō) is a single-portion home-packed meal of Japanese origin. Outside Japan, it is common in Chinese, Taiwanese and Korean cuisines, as well as in Southeast Asian cuisines, where rice is the staple food. A traditional Bento may contain rice or noodles, often with pickled and cooked vegetables in a box. Containers are hand-crafted lacquerware and Japanese homemakers often spend time and energy on carefully prepared box lunches for their spouses, children, or themselves.
